

Use a stone or other object to roll on to the grid, move your piece on the board the number of counters in the square

