Current Exhibitions

Sat 7 Feb - Sun 10 May 2026

Shahana Rajani: *Lines That World a River

The first European solo exhibition by multi-disciplinary artist Shahana Rajani (b. 1987, Karachi, Pakistan) with contributions from Ustad Abdul Aziz, Abdul Sattar and Aziza Ahmad. The work centres practices and lineages of drawing and painting through which coastal communities in Pakistan remain connected to sacred ecologies of rivers and sea amidst the violence and erasure of infrastructure and the climate emergency.

Dala Nasser: *Cemetery of Martyrs

The first solo exhibition in a major cultural institution in the UK by Dala Nasser (b. 1990, Lebanon) featuring a large-scale sculptural and sonic installation that creates a place to mourn, learn, and reaffirm the power of culture and humanity to connect us to histories of resistance and renewal, finding hope in the past to forge new pathways of thought and action for the future.

Upcoming Exhibitions

Augustas Serapinas: *Physical Culture

6 Jun – 6 Sep 2026

Two gallery spaces will be transformed into a functioning gym with fitness equipment created by the artist, incorporating new sculptures cast from the heads of local groups in Nottingham in place of conventional weights.

Chico da Silva

6 Jun – 6 Sep 2026

A glimpse into an immense non-hierarchical cosmology that was fuelled by the artist's imagination, mythology and folklore.

Sarah Cunningham

3 Oct 2026 – 11 Jan 2027

Imaginary wildernesses and fluid forestscapes take inspiration from the speculative landscapes of science fiction literature, art history, ecology and personal references.

Julia Isídrez

3 Oct 2026 – 11 Jan 2027

Guaraní artist and ceramicist Julia Isídrez's clay sculptures trouble and enlighten many issues that define cultural debate today – from indigeneity and identity politics to craft.

As a charity, we need to raise over £1 million every year to keep our building open, to keep working with artists, local communities and cultural partners, keep conversations going and to keep collaborating with a better future in mind.

Please support us, keep our building
free and open to all, and make Nottingham Contemporary your home.
